NEXT-GEN FINANCIAL INFRASTRUCTURE FOR AI AGENTS

We are building the Stripe for AI Agents

AI Agents Are Not Making Purchases Today

The exponential growth of AI agents demands a new financial infrastructure

Payments are hard

Traditional financial systems are designed for humans, excluding AI agents due to stringent KYC and anti-bot measures

Lack of Payment Infrastructure for AI Agents

There is no existing financial system designed specifically for AI agents

Complex Regulations & Compliance

The regulatory and compliance requirements for secure financial transactions are complex and often not suited for AI agents

Market Size

Transaction volumes among AI agents will far exceed those of human transactions, driving the need for specialized financial infrastructure

$4.8B — Global AI Agent Market Size as of 2023

10 — Every person is expected to manage 10 AI agents

100x — AI agent transaction volume expected to be 100x humans transactions

A Payments API Powering the Future of AI

Seamless and Scalable Financial Infrastructure for AI Agents

Seamless Integration with AI Agents

Easily connects with any AI agents, providing a unified financial infrastructure that supports a wide range of transactions.

Scalable and Efficient Processing

Handles high-frequency and large-scale transactions effortlessly, ensuring smooth operation as AI agent activity grows.

GTM Strategy

Targetting companies in these 3 industries as our early customers

01 — E-commerce

AI agents can effortlessly purchase anything online, from flights to books, and handle various transactions across multiple platforms.

02 — Banking / FinTech

AI agents can execute trades with lightning speed, optimizing investment strategies far beyond human capabilities.

03 — Supply Chain

AI agents manage orders, track shipments, and oversee inventory with precision.
